SECTION 2: EDUCATION AND QUALIFICATIONS

Your education may affect eligibility and points under different immigration programs.

□ I have identified all my completed educational qualifications.

□ I know the country and institution where I completed my education.

□ I have collected my educational certificates and transcripts.

□ I have checked whether an Educational Credential Assessment (ECA) is required.

□ I understand the difference between Canadian and foreign educational credentials.

□ I have reviewed whether my spouse's education may contribute to my immigration profile.

My highest completed qualification:

□ High School

□ Diploma / Certificate

□ Bachelor's Degree

□ Master's Degree

□ Doctoral Degree

□ Other: _____

Country of education: _____

Do I have an ECA? □ Yes □ No □ Not applicable

SECTION 3: WORK EXPERIENCE AND OCCUPATION

One of the most important areas to review carefully.

Your job title alone does not establish your occupational classification. Your actual duties, responsibilities and work experience need to be examined.

□ I have identified my current and previous occupations.

□ I have prepared a complete employment history.

□ I know my employment start and end dates.

□ I have identified whether my work experience was full-time or part-time.

□ I have calculated my total qualifying work experience.

□ I have reviewed whether my experience meets the relevant program's requirements.

□ I have documented my actual job duties and responsibilities.

□ I have checked whether my job duties correspond to the relevant NOC occupation.

□ I have reviewed whether my work experience was paid and properly documented.

□ I have collected employer reference letters and supporting evidence.

□ I have checked for gaps or inconsistencies in my employment history.

Record your employment details

Estimated years of experience

Important: Do not select a NOC code based only on your job title. The lead statement and main duties must be considered, along with the applicable occupational classification and program rules.

SECTION 4: LANGUAGE PROFICIENCY

Language ability can have a significant impact on eligibility and competitiveness.

□ I have taken an approved language test, if required.

□ I know my individual scores in reading, writing, listening and speaking.

□ I have checked whether my test is still valid.

□ I understand the difference between IELTS General Training and IELTS Academic.

□ I have checked the language level required for my intended immigration program.

□ I have considered whether improving my language results could strengthen my profile.

□ I have reviewed whether French language proficiency may provide additional opportunities.

SECTION 5: EXPRESS ENTRY AND CRS CONSIDERATIONS

If you are considering Express Entry, reviewing your CRS factors is an important step.

□ I understand whether I may qualify under the Federal Skilled Worker Program, Canadian Experience Class or Federal Skilled Trades Program.

□ I have reviewed the minimum eligibility requirements of the relevant program.

□ I have estimated my CRS score using the official IRCC CRS calculator.

□ I understand that meeting minimum eligibility requirements does not guarantee an invitation.

□ I have reviewed how my age affects my CRS score.

□ I have considered the impact of education and language results.

□ I have reviewed how Canadian and foreign work experience may be assessed.

□ I have checked whether my spouse's factors may contribute to my score.

□ I have reviewed relevant category-based selection requirements.

□ I understand that an Express Entry profile and an application for permanent residence are different stages.

My estimated CRS score: _____

Date of CRS calculation: _____

My intended Express Entry program:

□ Federal Skilled Worker Program

□ Canadian Experience Class

□ Federal Skilled Trades Program

□ Not sure yet

SECTION 6: PROVINCIAL NOMINEE PROGRAMS

Express Entry is not the only possible route to Canadian permanent residence.

□ I have explored provincial immigration programs.

□ I have considered whether my occupation is relevant to provincial selection priorities.

□ I have checked the eligibility requirements of the province I am interested in.

□ I have reviewed whether a job offer is required for the stream I am considering.

□ I have checked whether the province has additional requirements, such as work experience, education or language proficiency.

□ I understand that provincial nomination requirements and selection priorities can change.

Provinces I am interested in:

□ Ontario

□ Alberta

□ British Columbia

□ Manitoba

□ Saskatchewan

□ Atlantic provinces

□ Other: _____

SECTION 7: CURRENT IMMIGRATION STATUS AND DOCUMENTS

For individuals already in Canada, maintaining valid immigration status and understanding deadlines is essential.

□ I know the expiry date of my current permit or immigration document.

□ I understand the conditions attached to my current status.

□ I have checked whether I need to extend or change my status.

□ I understand the distinction between maintaining status and obtaining a new permit.

□ I have reviewed whether restoration may be relevant if my status has expired.

□ I have kept copies of previous applications and correspondence from IRCC.

□ I have checked that my passport and other identity documents are valid.

508, 55 City Centre Drive
Mississauga, ON L5B 1M3
taimmigration@gmail.com

□ I have reviewed whether police certificates, medical examinations or other supporting documents may be required.

Current immigration status:

□ Visitor

□ Student

□ Worker

□ Permanent Resident

□ Other: _____

Permit expiry date (if applicable): _____

SECTION 8: APPLICATION READINESS AND POTENTIAL RISKS

Before submitting an immigration application, consider whether your information is accurate, consistent and properly supported.

□ My personal information is consistent across documents.

□ My education and employment history can be supported with evidence.

□ My employment reference letters accurately describe my duties.

□ I have reviewed any gaps in my work or education history.

□ I have disclosed relevant previous immigration refusals.

□ I have reviewed any previous misrepresentation or admissibility concerns that may apply to my circumstances.

□ I understand the documents required for my intended immigration pathway.

508, 55 City Centre Drive
Mississauga, ON L5B 1M3
taimmigration@gmail.com
whatsapp:437-987-5710

□ I have checked current application instructions and fees through official IRCC sources.

□ I understand that submitting an application does not guarantee approval.

Areas where I need more clarity

□ Eligibility requirements

□ NOC classification and job duties

□ CRS score

□ Language requirements

□ Educational Credential Assessment

□ Provincial immigration options

□ Current immigration status

□ Supporting documents

□ Previous refusal or admissibility concerns

□ Other: _____
